

I close my eyes and dream

I close my eyes and dream
when reality comes into play.
And wondering if by closing my eyes
would all the pain just go away?

I close my eyes and dream
of places I've never been.
And wandering if I was there would they mistreat a little kid?

I close my eyes and dream
of all the fairytales.
And wandering if I was in one
I'd at least be around someone who cares.

I close my eyes to dream
for just a normal day.
Where I can just be a kid
and play with friends all day.

I close my eyes to dream
for just a little while.

But I can't keep my eyes closed
since my dreams are not worthwhile.

So, when you close your eyes
and begin to have your dreams.

Remember all the ones out there
whose dreams don't mean a thing.
